Head Start Is Praised By Mothers, Children

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four articles resulting from talks with persons participating in federal programs in Lincoln to help the poor and unemployed.)

"Best like to eat here!" And with that declaration a slim little blonde fellow marched off to continue his rearrangement of the table settings as he impatiently awaited the arrival of the other afternoon session youngsters in Project Head Start at First Plymouth Congregational Church.

For many other children, too, the daily hot lunch was the best part of the whole program to them. For several it was their only square meal of the day.

Some 350 Lincoln boys and girls from economically disadvantaged families and broken homes spent eight weeks this summer in eight Project Head Start centers throughout the city, designed to provide enriching experiences and ease the adjustment to school which each will face upon entering kindergarten this fall.

Co-directed by Mrs. Mary Pusche and Dr. Wiley Russell, Lincoln's Project Head Start barely met the application deadline but created enough enthusiasm in the community that volunteer "in-kind" contributions amounted to four times the expected amount.

Parental enthusiasm also ran high.

A mother of eight who sent her youngest to First Plymouth repeatedly called it a "wonderful thing," only regretting that the program was not available for her older children.

Asked why she sent the boy to Head Start the mother replied, "It couldn't hurt him. As long as somebody picked him up and brought him home I wasn't out anything."

"Everyone connected with the pre-school has been so nice I felt it was safe for him to go," she added.

Development
Not sure that Head Start sessions were worth it during the first two weeks, another mother changed her opinion after considering the development of her daughter.

The mother of a large family sent the girl because an older child had had adjustment problems in school which appeared to stem from the broken home situation. "I hoped that this program would bring out those problems if they were going to occur and then help resolve them so that it would not harm her school experience.

"Evidently it did some good," she declared. "My daughter is more sure of herself and plays with other children. She even stopped sucking her fingers."

Individual Attention

Another advantage to Head Start pointed out by the young mother was the individual attention given to the youngsters. "My daughter loves to be read to, and I just don't have time to do that with my other children and those I babysit demanding my time," she explained.

"She has learned so many things that I just don't have time to teach her with a large family."

A widowed mother was particularly impressed with the volunteer youths, especially the boys. "It means so much to the little boys when the bigger ones pay attention to them," she said.

Believing that the program was "well worth the money the government and the city of Lincoln put into it," the Head Start parent decided that "we have gotten back much more than we put into it."

Oil seeped from the wreckage, spread across the water and caught fire. Heavy rolling black smoke towered hundreds of feet into the air.

The wreckage itself was not burning, but divers reported there was evidence that the plane had been on fire before it crashed.

The plane went down in water between 20 and 30 feet deep. Its tail and parts of the fuselage were visible. A tug and a barge crane were trying to lift it out of the water.

Immediately after the plane hit the water, witnesses said, they saw several men get out, stand on the fuselage, then dive into the bay and swim to shore.

Hospital authorities said the survivors were suffering from shock, burns and fractured limbs but that none was in critical condition.

Red China Wants To Negotiate For Canadian Wheat

Ottawa (P)—Red China has indicated it wants to start negotiations this fall on another long-term wheat purchase agreement, informants said Monday.

They said no definite time or location was established during discussions with the Canadian wheat board.

The Chinese have purchased 186,700,000 bushels of the maximum 187,000,000 contained in the three-year agreement signed between Canada and China in 1963.

Jackson, Miss (P)—The Rev. Donald Thompson, 59-year-old white minister seriously wounded in a shotgun ambush at his apartment, apparently was shot because of his civil rights activities, city police said Monday.

Police and federal agents joined in an investigation into the blast which felled Thompson as he walked from the parking lot at his apartment building to the rear door Sunday night.

Gov. Paul Johnson termed the shooting "a cowardly nighttime ambush" and offered the services of state investigators.

"We don't have much to go on now," a police spokesman said. "We're working under the assumption that it was a civil rights shooting. The doctors said he couldn't tell what make or model car used by his assailants."

Police said Thompson reported he saw a car enter the lot with a white man driving and two others on the rear seat. He heard one shot, which missed him, and took the full charge of buckshot from the second in the back of the left shoulder, apparently from a distance of 25 feet.

The priest's companion, Jonathan Daniels, 27, an Episcopal theology student from Keene, N.H., was killed. A white man, Thomas L. Coleman, 55, has been charged with murder and released on $12,500 bond.

Baptist Hospital reported Thompson, pastor of First Unitarian Church here, received a broken shoulder and three lung punctures. He remained in the intensive care unit at the hospital Monday still awaiting surgery.

It was the first such shooting here since the ambush slaying of Medgar Evers, state field secretary for the NAACP.

In response to Councilman John Comstock's question asking if there were items the council added to his proposed budget that he did not approve of, Mayor Petersen answered:

"Every item added by the council is highly desirable and completely justifiable. I heartily agree with them."

Additions by the council include $165,000 for storm sewer construction in the 40th and D vicinity and salaries for 7 additional police officers.

Although commenting very little about the budget before the final approval action, council members debated among themselves and with the mayor about the administration of the budget once it is approved.

Cause Of Concern

The apparent cause of concern was whether city departments could change the use of funds after the council has approved a specific appropriation, or if the mayor could direct such a change.

Comstock and Councilwoman Mrs. Helen Boosalis argued that any change in the 3-DAY RUN . . .

Lancaster County Fair Is Opening

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The Lancaster County Fair begins a three-day jam-packed session Tuesday morning when boys and girls presenting agricultural demonstrations will be the first competitive event of the fair.

In the livestock department the opening day of the fair will be completely occupied by horse judging with halter classes passing before the judge at 10 a.m. and the performance classes showing at 1 p.m. in the State Fair coliseum.

Tree and weed identification contests will be conducted in the 4-H coliseum beginning at 2 p.m.

Fastest Growing

The home economics division, one of the fastest growing departments at the county fair, will be judged both Tuesday and Wednesday.

Winners in the sheep, swine, and dairy shows and the Skirt and Blouse Dress Review will be named Wednesday.

The beef show, Middle and Advanced Dress Review are on the Thursday, judging program.

Cyril Bish, Lancaster Co. extension agent, terms the county fair an event that has been attracting increasing number of urban boys and girls as well as youth from the country.

Urban Youth

"4-H projects designed for both rural and urban youth now attract more than 60% representation from boys and girls living in urban areas," says Bish.

Bish reminds county residents that the county fair offers an excellent opportunity to follow the progress of 4-H with all events free to the public.

Maneuver A Must On Moon Mission

... CONRAD SINGS, TOO

Space Center, Houston, Tex. (P)—America's Gemini 5 astronauts embarked on a mammoth sky hunt Monday, and after a 40,000-mile chase caught up with a ghost satellite. This is an essential maneuver if man's dream of reaching the moon is ever to come true.

For 2 hours and 15 minutes astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. engaged in the delicate business of lowering their orbit and aiming at a theoretical target fleeing at 17,500 miles an hour.

Long before, the Space Twins had been given the nod for another 24 hours in space, but this has now become almost routine.

Million Miles

No doubt about it: having racked up a million miles on their 3,120,000-mile journey, they're shooting for 121 orbits and a record eight days aloft.

They reported two technical problems. The temperature gauge in the instrument panel went out, but there is a backup hand-held device in the cabin. A light went out in a system used to align objects on the ground and in space for photography and other experiments. The pilots were trying to fix it; if they can't, some experiments will have to be curtailed.

The make-believe satellite chase was an attempt to salvage part of an experiment that had to be abandoned when Gemini 5 ran into power problems early on the first day.

Scuttled

The astronauts had toed along a 78-pound satellite and had ejected it, but in view of the pressing power problems the plan for a rendezvous had to be scuttled.

Monday the astronauts fired their jet thrusters four times during their 135-minute experiment. This lowered their orbit, and the lower the orbit the more quickly one travels about the earth.

The ghost satellite was fixed theoretically at 477 miles away. By lowering the high point of their orbit from 207 miles to 193 miles, Cooper and Conrad, at least in theory, got within 17 miles of their target.

In addition to chasing phantoms, the astronauts performed several other space chores.

They photographed land features and storm systems around the world, helped out with several medical checks, and tried to determine more accurately how much a man can see while whizzing along at such a vast height.

Good Look

At one point Conrad said: "We're getting a good look at Florida, the Bahamas and Cuba today."

But at Laredo, Tex., where a sort of giant eye chart is mapped out on the ground, results were mixed.

"We got the spot pinned down," Conrad said, "but, boy, it sure is hard to see 'em."

Cooper, who may have had the better viewing side, said he could see the figures quite well, but apparently there wasn't time to run a more complete check.

The chitchat from outer space showed how well they were feeling.

You Talk A Lot

At the space center, astronaut James A. McDivitt, mission control communicator, made this comment:

"You do sure talk a lot."

Conrad: "Say again."

McDivitt: "I said, 'You do sure do talk a lot.'"

Conrad: "What do you want me to do, sing a song?"

McDivitt: "Think you can?"

Cooper: "He sings off key."

Conrad (in a singsong): "Over the ocean, over the blue, here's Gemini 5 singing to you." (Pause). "Well, I'm going back to talking."

McDivitt: "Get you a job with the Houston Astros."

The Astros are ninth in the National League.

Council Formally Adopts City Budget

... LEVY SET AT 25.50 MILLS

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Monday formally adopted the fiscal 1965-66 city budget and authorized a tax levy of 25.50 mills.

The mill levy represents an increase of 3.1 mills over 1964-65 and 1.40 mills over the levy proposed by Mayor Dean Petersen for the year beginning Sept. 1.

The budget, as proposed by the mayor and added to slightly by the council before final approval, is the largest in the city's history and twice that of last year.

Air Base Shelled From Long Range

POWER PLANT BOMBED

Saigon, Viet Nam (UPI) — Viet Cong guerrillas staged a long-range mortar attack on the Bien Hoa Air Base near Saigon early Tuesday, hitting a ramp and barracks area. U.S. military spokesmen said casualties among U.S. forces and damage to buildings and planes were light.

One Air Force officer said 30 to 50 mortar rounds were dropped on the base in the 15-minute attack that started shortly after midnight. He said the fire from the southwest came from quite a long range.

U.S. warplanes bombed a North Vietnamese dam and hydro-electric plant for the third straight day Monday, damaging both, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The site is at Ban Thach on the Song Chu River 80 miles south southwest of Hanoi, the Red capital.

The U.S. spokesman in Saigon said the jet planes struck twice at the hydroelectric plant, damaging a multi-story generator.

The pilots reported that the dam, said to have been heavily damaged in raids Saturday and Sunday, received hits in its lock system. The dam was described as 60 feet wide and 8 feet high. The lock system is used for the movement of small boats.

Viet Cong In Urgent Appeal To Red Cross

Geneva (UPI) — The Communist Viet Cong has urgently requested medical supplies, from first aid materials to equipment for major surgery, the International Committee of the Red Cross said Monday.

An ICRC spokesman said the world organization sent an initial $11,700 each to Communist North Viet Nam and the South Vietnamese government Red Cross Societies.

The spokesman added an appeal has been made to all national Red Cross agencies to donate money and goods for refugees and war victims in North and South Viet Nam.

Made to British

The appeal from the Viet Cong was made to the British Red Cross Society, which forwarded it to the Geneva headquarters.

In London, a British Red Cross spokesman said the appeal was received from "a third party." He said the "third party" in turn had received the request from Viet Cong officials in Algiers or Prague.

The ICRC spokesman said the Viet Cong asked for medicines, including blood plasma.

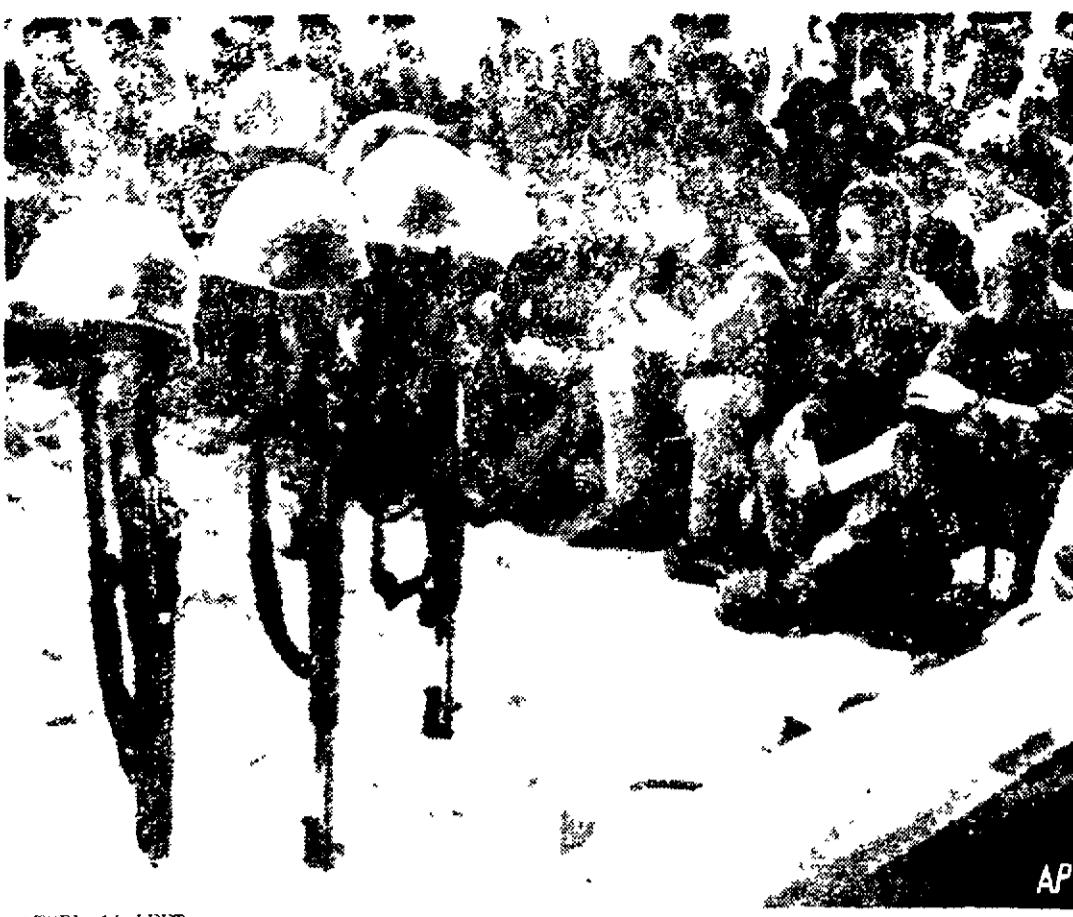

Indonesia Arranging Aid To Laos, Washington Hints

Washington (UPI) — State Department officials intimated Monday that arrangements have been worked out for Indonesia to supply Laos with military assistance and training.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey would say only that "we are aware of the fact that perhaps Indonesia and Gen. Kong Le's forces will arrange for Indonesian assistance."

It was learned that Kong Le, who commands the government forces in the intermittent fighting with the Communist Pathet Lao, visited Jakarta last April.

At that time he discussed with Indonesian officials a program of support for the Lao military forces.

High Soviet Scientist Calls Moon Concern Exaggerated

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Union's top scientific administrator deplored Monday the exaggerated interest in the world" in putting a man on the moon. He said it is too early to set a realistic date.

The United States has announced a target date of 1969 for landing a man on the lunar surface.

The Soviet scientist, Dr. Mstislav Keldysh, said much remains to be learned before "we can talk of landing a man on the moon or a planet."

Near Interplanetary Travel

"Man is approaching interplanetary travel but it would be bad if he let himself be carried away . . . if he acted on the basis of insufficient information."

So far, it is not even possible to pick a landing site for a man on the moon, Keldysh said.

The Soviet Union he went on, plans to continue with its efforts to land instruments softly on the moon. The first two attempts last May and June failed. The first American attempt is scheduled late this year.

Keldysh is president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences. He spoke at a news conference devoted to Zond 3, the Soviet space probe that photographed the far side of the moon July 20.

10% 'Seas'

Academician Alexander Mikhailov said the Zond 3 photos, plus the first Soviet photos of the moon's far side, showed that only 10% of it had flat, dark areas known as seas. The waterless seas occupy 40% of the side of the moon that always faces the earth.

Mikhailov said internal factors, rather than external ones such as the earth's influence, probably accounted for the differences. A possible internal sign was the large number of volcano craters, he suggested. Only a small percentage of the moon's craters seemed to be caused by meteorite hits, Mikhailov said, and most were volcanic.

Newly disclosed details of Zond 3 showed it was a 2,204-pound craft with one camera that took 25 pictures of the moon. It is sending them back repeatedly as it speeds into an orbit around the sun, testing the distance from which reception is possible.

The three pictures so far released were transmitted from 1,367,000 miles, compared with 134 million miles for the Mars pictures by America's Mariner 4.

The experts in Soviet affairs speculate that Khrushchev will gloss over the distant past, when he was a trusted and ostensibly loyal adviser of the late dictator Josef Stalin.

It was expected the key to the former premier's memoirs would be the transition from terror to a less totalitarian form of government. He was expected to play down the era of his own leadership.

Observers feel, however, the book will throw fresh light on the Stalin era and the personalities around the Russian dictator. Among the contents they believe will be:

The ouster of Georgi Malenkov as premier after Stalin's death.

The attempt to oust Khrushchev, which compromised V. M. Molotov, engineer of Stalin's foreign policy.

The quarrel with Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who saved Khrushchev's skin when the Soviet Presidium was ready to fire him.

Details of Khrushchev's switch toward coexistence with the United States and the confrontation with President Kennedy over the Cuban missile sites.

Ice Clouds Face Venus Visitors

Blacksburg, Va. (UPI) — Space voyagers of the future will have to fly through clouds of ice on visits to Venus and dust storms on their way to the surface of Mars.

These possibilities were suggested Monday in papers presented at a scientific conference at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute on "The Exploration of Mars and Venus."

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is concentrating its efforts mainly at present on the Apollo project to land men on the moon before 1970.

Exploring Planets

At the same time, the institute noted, attention is being focused on the possibility of exploring "the near earth planets." Papers prepared for the meeting detail what is known about Mars and Venus and speculate about the many unknowns.

The Mariner 2 spacecraft launched Aug. 27, 1962, returned information indicating the surface of Venus was too hot—about 800 degrees Fahrenheit—to permit existence of life anything like that on earth.

The surface of Venus is perpetually concealed from earthly telescopes by a thick blanket of clouds, the composition of which was little known.

Telescope On Balloon

Some information about these clouds was gained by balloon-telescope observations made by Prof. John D. Strong and his colleagues of Johns Hopkins University.

Strong told the conference that on flight last November, the balloon-borne instruments identified clouds in the Venus atmosphere as ice crystals.

Dr. Conway B. Leovy of the Rand Corp. reported theoretical conclusions about winds and eddies in the thin Martian atmosphere which have been observed by ground telescopes to kick up dust storms on occasion.

The largest disturbances, he suggested, may be expected in regions where surface temperatures decrease toward the poles.

"The absence of oceans on Mars," Runcorn said, "implies that tidal friction must occur in the solid interior of Mars."

Episcopal Church In Alabama Hit; Didn't Hold Service For Daniels

Keene, N.H. (UPI) — An Episcopal priest Monday criticized the Episcopal Church in Alabama for not holding a memorial service for slain civil rights worker Jonathan Daniels.

Morris said Episcopal churches in a dozen cities held memorial services for Daniels, but none was held at St. Paul's in Selma.

Air Base Shelled From Long Range

POWER PLANT BOMBED

Saigon, Viet Nam (P)—Viet Cong guerrillas staged a long-range mortar attack on the Bien Hoa Air Base near Saigon early Tuesday, hitting a ramp and barracks area. U.S. military spokesman said casualties among U.S. forces and damage to buildings and planes were light.

One Air Force officer said 30 to 50 mortar rounds were dropped on the base in the 15-minute attack that started shortly after midnight. He said the fire from the southwest came from quite a long range.

U.S. warplanes bombed a North Vietnamese dam and hydro-electric plant for the third straight day Monday, damaging both, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The site is at Ban Thach on the Song Chu River 80 miles south southwest of Hanoi, the Red capital.

The U.S. spokesman in Saigon said the jet planes struck twice at the hydroelectric plant, damaging a multi-story generator.

The pilots reported that the dam, said to have been heavily damaged in raids Saturday and Sunday, received hits in its lock system. The dam was described as 60 feet wide and 8 feet high. The lock system is used for the movement of small boats.

Viet Cong In Urgent Appeal To Red Cross

Geneva (UPI) — The Communist Viet Cong has urgently requested medical supplies, from first aid materials to equipment for major surgery, the International Committee of the Red Cross said Monday.

An ICRC spokesman said the world organization sent an initial $11,700 each to Communist North Viet Nam and the South Vietnamese government Red Cross Societies.

The spokesman added an appeal has been made to all national Red Cross agencies to donate money and goods for refugees and war victims in North and South Viet Nam.

Made to British

The appeal from the Viet Cong was made to the British Red Cross Society, which forwarded it to the Geneva headquarters.

(In London, a British Red Cross spokesman said the appeal was received from "a third party." He said the "third party" in turn had received the request from Viet Cong officials in Algiers or Prague.)

The ICRC spokesman said the Viet Cong asked for medicines, including blood plasma and antimalaria and antidiarrheal drugs. It also asked for antisepsics, antibiotics, anesthetics, blood transfusion equipment and surgical instruments.

The International Red Cross recently appealed to all combatants in the Viet Nam war to respect the principles of the Geneva war conventions, particularly in regard to the humane treatment of prisoners of war.

Viet Cong Unheard From

Replies were received from the United States and South Viet Nam, but the Viet Cong has yet to be heard from.

The Red Cross spokesman said North Viet Nam was informed the $11,700 in aid was to be used for war victims. South Viet Nam was told the funds were for refugees and war invalids, the spokesman said.

Twice in the past two years, the Red Cross had asked North Viet Nam's Red Cross for assistance was needed. There was no reply until recently when the North Vietnamese said they do not desire supplies but reserve the right to request assistance if it becomes necessary.

Fort Worth, Tex. (P)—An Air Force F111, the once-controversial TFX, flew at twice the speed of sound for the first time Monday.

The variable-sweep-wing, bi-service fighter recorded the speed while on routine flight operations at 40,000 feet. General Dynamics Corp. is prime contractor for the plane.

Six fighters have flown 113 times in the flight program.

Crops Benefit From Moisture, Cooler Temps

...Some Corn, Sorghum Beyond Help

Heavy rains plus cooler weather brought relief to crops throughout the state last week, the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics said Monday.

Some corn and sorghum have been damaged beyond recovery, but for the most part there will be sufficient moisture to carry crops through the maturity stage, the bureau stated in its weekly crop-weather report.

The corn crop maturity is slightly advanced over a year earlier with about two percent considered mature and about 20% in the dent stage, the report revealed. This is mostly the early planted corn, and there are some late planted fields that will need a longer than usual growing season to mature grain, it was explained.

Trucker Dies In Smashup Near Murray

Murray (UPI) — A North Dakota truck driver, Myron L. Daschendorf, 34, West Fargo, was killed early Monday when his truck, loaded with potatoes, smashed into a ditch about three and one-half miles south of here on U.S. 73-75 and 34.

Cass County Sheriff Fred Tesch said no other vehicle was involved in the accident. He said Daschendorf may have fallen asleep at the wheel.

The truck was owned by Krueger Lines at Moorhead, Minn.

Sheriff Tesch said the truck left the highway, struck an embankment near a culvert, and wound up in the ditch.

Omahans Win State Talent, Beauty Meet

Omaha (UPI) — Two Omaha girls were winners in the Miss Nebraska High School Talent and Beauty Contest.

Elizabeth Miller, 17, was chosen Miss Nebraska High School Beauty Queen, and Donna Hansen, 17, was picked as Miss Nebraska High School Talent Queen.

Elizabeth is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Miller. Donna's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hansen.

They were chosen from a field of 10 Nebraska finalists. The queens will compete in the national finals Aug. 26-28 in Asbury Park, N.J.

Bigley Critically Hurt In Collision

Grand Island (UPI) — Three persons were injured in a car-truck collision near here Monday.

The accident occurred at the intersection of a county road and U.S. 34 southeast of here.

Hospitalized in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital here was the driver of the car, Kenneth L. Bigley, 38, of Grand Island.

Two passengers, also from Grand Island, were hospitalized. They were Clifford F. Kelley, 38, in satisfactory condition, and Irene Kelley, 50, in fair condition.

R. J. Metcalf, 28, Bentonville, Ark., the driver of the truck, was released after treatment for minor injuries.

The court's ruling also was contrary to an opinion by the Iowa attorney general's office, which had held that the question of legality of apportioning the state legislature should be left up to federal courts.

Belin represents a group of citizens challenging the temporary apportionment of the state legislature. He had asked the court to overturn Judge Perkins' decision, and also to rule on the constitutionality of the re-apportionment plan passed this spring by the general assembly.

Douglas Co. Budget, Tax Levy Hiked

Omaha (UPI) — The Douglas County Board approved a $12.69 million budget Monday and raised the tax levy by 1.35 mills.

The budget is $1.68 million over 1964-65 spending. Helping to hike the total are expenditures for the Papio Creek flood project and countywide reappraisal of property.

The mill hike brings the county levy to $7.23 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Omaha property owners will pay a total levy of 85.96 mills, an 8.47 increase over last year.

Adoption of the budget was accompanied by a flurry of objections from the two Republican members of the county board.

2 Boys Drown; Car Swept From Road By Flood

Fort Morgan, Colo. (UPI) — Two small boys drowned but four other members of their family escaped when their automobile was swept from a road by high waters 12 miles north of here Sunday night.

The dead were John, 2, and James, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson of Briggsdale.

Also in the car were two daughters, Jennifer, 6, and Janet, 4.

The State Patrol reported eight roads were closed in Colorado Monday because of flooding caused by rains.

East of Denver, State Highway 86 was closed and so was U.S. 40 at Deertrail.

Omaha Needs Lobbyist, Says Mayor Sorenson

Omaha (UPI) — Mayor A. V. Sorenson said the city of Omaha should have a full-time lobbyist during the next session of the unicameral.

Sorenson said he would make such a recommendation to the City Council because "there are too many things happening which affect city affairs not to be represented on a regular basis."

Sorenson commended Frederick Brown of the city's legal department for the work done by him in the 1965 Legislature.

Crops Benefit From Moisture, Cooler Temps

...Some Corn, Sorghum Beyond Help

Heavy rains plus cooler weather brought relief to crops throughout the state last week, the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics said Monday.

Some corn and sorghum have been damaged beyond recovery, but for the most part there will be sufficient moisture to carry crops through the maturity stage, the bureau stated in its weekly crop-weather report.

The corn crop maturity is slightly advanced over a year earlier with about two percent considered mature and about 20% in the dent stage, the report revealed. This is mostly the early planted corn, and there are some late planted fields that will need a longer than usual growing season to mature grain, it was explained.

Trucker Dies In Smashup Near Murray

Murray (UPI) — A North Dakota truck driver, Myron L. Daschendorf, 34, of West Fargo, was killed early Monday when his truck, loaded with potatoes, smashed into a ditch about three and one-half miles south of here on U.S. 73-75 and 34.

Cass County Sheriff Fred Tesch said no other vehicle was involved in the accident. He said Daschendorf may have fallen asleep at the wheel.

The truck was owned by Krueger Lines at Moorhead, Minn.

Sheriff Tesch said the truck left the highway, struck an embankment near a culvert, and wound up in the ditch.

Omahans Win State Talent, Beauty Meet

Omaha (UPI) — Two Omaha girls were winners in the Miss Nebraska High School Talent and Beauty Contest.

Elizabeth Miller, 17, was chosen Miss Nebraska High School Beauty Queen, and Donna Hansen, 17, was picked as Miss Nebraska High School Talent Queen.

Elizabeth is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Miller. Donna's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hansen.

They were chosen from a field of 10 Nebraska finalists. The queens will compete in the national finals Aug. 26-28 in Asbury Park, N.J.

Bigley Critically Hurt In Collision

Grand Island (UPI) — Three persons were injured in a car-truck collision near here Monday.

The accident occurred at the intersection of a county road and U.S. 34 southeast of here.

Hospitalized in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital here was the driver of the car, Kenneth L. Bigley, 38, of Grand Island.

Two passengers, also from Grand Island, were hospitalized. They were Clifford F. Kelley, 38, in satisfactory condition, and Irene Kelley, 50, in fair condition.

R. J. Metcalf, 28, Bentonville, Ark., the driver of the truck, was released after treatment for minor injuries.

Reapportionment Jurisdiction Up To State Courts'

Des Moines, Iowa (UPI) — The Iowa Supreme Court Monday ruled unanimously that state courts have jurisdiction to rule on problems involving legislative reapportionment.

Polk County Judge Harry Perkins Jr. had ruled that federal courts have handled all of Iowa's reapportionment cases so far, and should continue to hold jurisdiction in such cases.

However, the Supreme Court said "as to reapportionment matters, federal courts should yield to state courts if the state courts act promptly."

Monday's ruling said only that the state courts had the right to handle legislative redistricting problems. The court refused a request by David Belin, Des Moines attorney, asking for a ruling on the constitutionality of any reapportionment article which does not specifically call for sub-districting of counties entitled to more than one legislator in a house.

The court's ruling also was contrary to an opinion by the Iowa attorney general's office, which had held that the question of legality of apportioning the state legislature should be left up to federal courts.

Belin represents a group of citizens challenging the temporary apportionment of the state legislature. He had asked the court to overturn Judge Perkins' decision, and also to rule on the constitutionality of the reapportionment plan passed this spring by the general assembly.

Douglas Co. Budget, Tax Levy Hiked

Omaha (AP) — The Douglas County Board approved a $1.68 million budget Monday and raised the tax levy by 1.85 mills.

The budget is $1.68 million over 1964-65 spending. Helping to hike the total are expenditures for the Papio Creek flood project and countywide reappraisal of property.

The mill hike brings the county levy to $7.23 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Omaha property owners will pay a total levy of 85.96 mills, an 8.47 increase over last year.

Adoption of the budget was accompanied by a flurry of objections from the two Republican members of the county board.

2 Boys Drown; Car Swept From Road By Flood

Fort Morgan, Colo. (AP) — Two small boys drowned but four other members of their family escaped when their automobile was swept from a road by high waters 12 miles north of here Sunday night.

The dead were John, 2, and James, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson of Briggsdale.

Also in the car were two daughters, Jennifer, 6, and Janet, 4.

The State Patrol reported eight roads were closed in Colorado Monday because of flooding caused by rains.

East of Denver, State Highway 86 was closed and so was U.S. 40 at Deertrail.

Omaha Needs Lobbyist, Says Mayor Sorenson

Omaha (UPI) — Mayor A. V. Sorenson said the city of Omaha should have a full-time lobbyist during the next session of the unicameral.

Sorenson said he would make such a recommendation to the City Council because "there are too many things happening which affect city affairs not to be represented on a regular basis."

Sorenson commended Frederick Brown of the city's legal department for the work done by him in the 1955 Legislature.

Moisture received over the state during the week ending Monday included:

Scheidt Honored At National Elks Meet For Youth Activities Service

Scottsbluff — When the Grand Lodge of BPO Elks met at Miami Beach, Fla., recently in national convention, two of the nation's members were singled out for their work as chairmen of state youth activities committees.

One of the "awards for exceptional service" went to Scheidt, the New York state activities chairman. The other was presented to Ken Scheidt of Scottsbluff, Nebraska state youth activities chairman.

Scottsbluff Lodge No. 1367 is especially proud of the plaque awarded to Scheidt for his many years of outstanding service, both to the local lodge and to the state youth activities committee.

The Scottsbluff man has served as Nebraska state chairman for the past three years and has been a member of the committee five years. In that time Nebraska has won three national first place awards, had one third place winner and one honorable mention.

Scheidt, a Scottsbluff photographer, catalogues the local lodge and state programs with his camera. He prepares the brochures for both to be submitted in national competition.

George Klein of Lincoln, state Elks president, received the award at the Miami Beach convention in behalf of Scheidt.

Does It Matter?

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

(Note: William O. Dobler, The Star's editor, is on vacation. Today's column by Marquis Childs, Washington news analyst, discusses the Alliance for Progress.)

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's eloquent salute to the Alliance for Progress on the fourth birthday of the Alliance was a mixture of promises tempered by a dash of reality. However much of the speech to the Latin American ambassadors may be discounted as rhetoric, it will help to make up for the silence in Washington that the Americas to the south have deeply felt.

The observer traveling even briefly in the southern half of the hemisphere is immediately aware of a struggle for survival.

Given the conflicting forces growing above all out of the population explosion, the issue is hardly less than survival. In the struggle, the American aid program in all its phases plays an important part. For the short term, it may be a decisive part in helping to check inflation and make up for budgetary deficits.

A wide variety of aid projects—housing, schools, health—are examples of what can be done, given the will and the resources. Measured against the incalculable need, they look a little like trying to bail out the ocean with a teaspoon. Nonetheless, dedicated effort as well as dollars go into pointing a way out of the dead end of mass poverty alongside a thin layer of great wealth.

But for the long pull, the inadequacies of the Alliance—for that matter, any program so far contemplated—are painfully evident. So many of the elements of a modern society are lacking. These basic lacks make reform and change difficult if not impossible. This observer would put several at the head of a long list.

First is the difficulty of communication, both within individual countries and from country to country. Telephone systems are inadequate and inefficient. Communication by telegraph is almost equally limited and rates are very high. This presents serious problems for government and business.

Transportation, both rail and highway, is equally deficient. The vast distances, the snow-covered mountain ranges, the jungle, the far reaches of the interior have never been mastered. A coastal civilization is only beginning to push out into the empty spaces. This is a costly effort requiring large capital investment and administrative skills in pitifully short supply.

Although there are variations from country to country, there is a desperate need for managerial capability. In Chile, where the level is higher, President Eduardo Frei spoke recently to this reporter of how many tasks he had to perform himself because no one else could do them. This means not just rudimentary education but training in management.

Fortunately some of the big American foundations have begun to recognize this need. A start has been made, and a younger generation is coming along that could fill the management gap.

What this suggests is that the United States aid program is buying time—granted there will be time enough to forestall the tidal wave of untrained and uneducated youths coming out of the upsurge of population. It may also suggest that the aid program might better have concentrated on basic needs that must be filled before the Americas to the south can move into the latter part of the 20th Century.

The Monroe Doctrine kept out European exploiters. The good neighbor policy of Franklin Roosevelt was a valuable exercise in friendship.

The Alliance for Progress began with a rush of enthusiasm. It has fallen away to a piecemeal program that is hopefully a stop-gap. If it is recognized as just that, then possibly a larger and bolder formulation may be forthcoming even though the hour is late. Above all, as the President observed in his address and as many Latin American leaders are saying, the need for integration of the economies of the Americas of the south is essential. Does it really matter very much? "Those people down there," the North American is inclined to say, "have always been poverty-ridden. And the owning class simply won't take any responsibility." There is enough truth in this to breed indifference and cynicism. But it does matter more today than possibly at any other time in the long and curiously roller-coaster relationship between North and South. For with half of the population of Latin America under 21, the ignorance explosion—the upsurge of the untrained and the uneducated—cannot be ignored.

At worst, it means a vicious banditry, with an overlay of communism and rapid breakdown of order. At best, it means an impossible drain on the population over 21, growing unemployment and waste of brains and brawn.

More Self Reliant

There was a time, for a very long time, that any nation could use its products for national gain. And there are some nations who still believe they can do that.

But today withholding a product from an advanced nation makes it worthwhile to figure out a substitute, and advanced nations are very good at that.

Nothing helped the production of synthetic rubber so much as the Japanese capture of Southeast Asia's rubber forests. Momentarily it put the United States in a tight spot and early in the Japanese war it caused a great stockpiling of old tires. But in a few months the laboratories had perfected a way of making synthetic rubber and the reserve stockpiles were never needed.

Now there is trouble in Southeast Asia from whence has always come a great deal of our tin. It is very possible that Asia's tin mines will run out of customers within a few years.

Our greatest use of the metal derives from the manufacture of the tin can. The tin was necessarily in the early days because it would not react to canned food. It, therefore, became a vital metal for the food industry. Nowadays the tin can contains only 1 per cent tin. A successful method for plating the interior of a steel can was developed.

The tin shortage of World War II caused new research in packaging. Aluminum, card board and plastics came to the fore. Now the U.S. Steel Corporation is spending millions on research to produce a special steel that will not need tin plating. It is on the verge of a breakthrough.

This is a solemn warning to the nations which still believe they can win by withholding products.

A Serious Charge

well get out of the entire field of research for research in any field is a matter of probing the unknown and is full of dead ends.

In this scientific age defense is not what it once was. There was a time when it meant making a large number of battle axes which anyone could make and use. But today it is the sophisticated unknown weapons that may hold the key to survival. It is difficult to place a price tag on them, but it is essential to discover them.

This is not essentially spoken in defense of Aerospace but rather in behalf of our whole defense establishment. If Aerospace has violated the precincts of thrifit then it's a chastisement. But judgment of this will require a precisely informed jury and that goes beyond the capacity of just plain public opinion.

A ugly question has been raised, let it be fairly and fully answered.

High Educational Aim

Wahoo, for years, was the seat of a high grade church college. A few years ago it was emptied by a consolidation of schools. The community is sponsoring a new academic effort, using the buildings and dormitories of the former college. It will open for its first term shortly. Its new enrollment of freshmen equals its dormitory capacity. Additional facilities will be built during the year and for each of the succeeding years until full enrollment for its four year instruction can be accommodated.

Currently half its freshmen class are students from Nebraska high schools. The other half have registered from out of the state, principally from the East where students exceed college capacities.

Said President Greenhalgh, "We do not aspire to bigness. We hope rather for academic greatness. We want good students and the close contact with an excellent faculty that only a small school can give."

The John F. Kennedy college expects all out of town students to reside in the school dormitory. Cars are off limits for all freshmen and will only be allowed to upperclassmen who can maintain a scholastic average of better than average. The school has made no provision for football but will maintain a program of sport for basketball, track and baseball. But its main emphasis will be on high level education. The school will operate on a low cost basis charging $725 a semester when will include in addition to collegiate fees, both board and room.

The Robinson family, which owns the mystery island, has made it a sort of reserve for the maintenance of old Hawaiian tradition. The industry is ranching there are some 1,700 cattle and 500 sheep. The cowboys

Amish Live In 'Island Of Serenity'

By ROBERT PETERSON

Bird-in-Hand, Pa. — The family and I have been visiting Lancaster County where some 8,000 Amish live in what has been called an island of serenity.

While the Amish spurn modern inventions, their land has the highest yield per acre in the nation. They have neither poverty nor crime in their midst, they don't believe in educating children beyond the eighth grade, and they shun all forms of government aid.

A sign announced that an Amish farm was open to the public, so we stopped for a look. The Amish frown on commercialism, but it seems this particular owner was having trouble raising the money to buy each of his four sons a small farm — as is the custom. So he and his family spend weekends with relatives and permit a friend to show the farm for a fee.

The grounds, enclosed by sturdy fences, were grassy and neatly clipped. The barns were solid and freshly-painted. Several well-fed cows and horses stared at us from a nearby meadow which sloped gently toward a pond on which ducks and geese were swimming.

The square stone house radiated a well-cared for look. There were kerosene lamps, straightbacked chairs, whitewashed walls, and floors covered with hand-loomed carpeting. In the kitchen was a hand pump and a cast-iron stove. The only touches of decoration were sprigs of ivy growing from a jar on a shelf, and an ornate, hand-carved clock.

Just off the kitchen was a three-room annex, known as Grossdawdy's House. This is where the grandparents live. The guide explained that Amish couples reaching their mid-60's move to this section of the house, and their eldest son and his family take over the main house and farming responsibilities.

The old parents can thus enjoy the comfort and security of being at home and close to their kin. Yet they have their privacy and are away from the noise and bustle of the young family.

Age is revered among the Amish for it is the elders who transmit to the young the know-how needed to farm successfully.

Where did the Amish come from? Their founder was Jacob Amman who lived in Switzerland and Germany in the 16th century. He believed the most satisfying life could be achieved by following the Bible literally and disavowing worldly pride and progress. Several thousand of his followers immigrated to the U.S. in the 18th century, and about a fourth of them settled in Pennsylvania. There are now about 50,000 Amish in this country.

Most of us would flounder in self-pity if deprived of electricity, refrigerators, automobiles, tiled baths, telephones, television, and high school educations. Yet the Amish don't seem to "Surely a government that spends $15 billion a year on research projects ranging from a cure for the common cold to putting a man on the moon can afford to devote some of its resources to a problem which is threatening to become our No. 1 domestic difficulty," Hruska said in a statement.

He said he has outlined his proposal in a letter to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in which he asked the Justice Department to recommend legislation to implement the research plan.

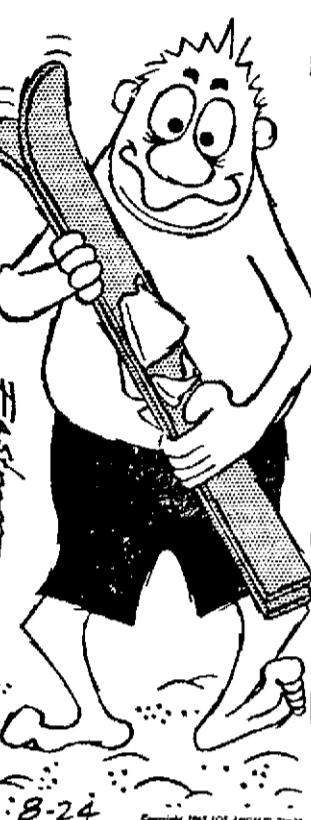

Muscular Dystrophy Officers Re-Elected

Fairbury — Mrs. Marvin Traeger of Fairbury has been re-elected president of the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation of Nebraska to serve a two-year term.

Other officers, all re-elected, include Mrs. Clements Bueche of Elk Creek, vice president; Mrs. Edwin Elts of Endicott, secretary; and Mrs. Alvin Boettcher of Fairbury, treasurer.

BRIDES at candlelight weddings

Lighted white candles and an arrangement of white gladioli decorated the chancel of St. James Methodist Church Saturday evening, Aug. 21, for the marriage of Miss Betty Jean Rector, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Rector, to Gordon Lee Kuklisch, son of Mrs. Alberta Kuklisch. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Clarence Campbell.

Mrs. Edward Busch, Jr., was her sister's matron of honor and wore a bell-skirted frock of pastel blue brocade. Costumed identically were the bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Becker and Miss Sheila Schaffer; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Robert York, Seattle.

Serving as best man was Leland Crosley, and seating the guests were Garnett Crosley, Wilsonville; Gary Osantowski and Allan Maybee.

The bride appeared in a colonial gown of white Chantilly. The scalloped, sabrina neckline was embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins, and a deep ruffle of the lace bordered the wide skirt which continued into a chapel train. A cap of organza roses held her bouffant veil of English illusion, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with white roses and blue-tinted carnations.

The bridegroom is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mrs. Kuklisch is a senior at the University of Nebraska.

Parties

To be honored Tuesday evening will be Miss Susan Ann Synak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Synak, and her fiance, Douglas M. Nicoll, whose wedding will be an event of Wednesday, Aug. 25.

In prenuptial courtesy to the couple, Mr. Nicoll's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nicoll, will be host and hostess at dinner at the University Club.

The guests will include members of the bridal party and family, and among those coming from out of town will be the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Synak, Ravenna; and her uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Synak and family, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swanek, Chicago; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Flaming, Doniphan.

Miss Synak has been honored at several courtesies in recent weeks. The soon-to-be bride was presented a personal shower at a party for which Miss Mary Jo McDonnell was hostess at the First Federal party room.

Also entertaining recently for Miss Synak was Miss Ann Gordon, who was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home.

Recently honored at a bridal courtesy was Miss Karen Larson, who will become the bride of Neil R. Cole of Plattsburgh, on Sunday, Aug. 29.

Entertaining for Miss Larson were Miss Terri Billiard and her mother, Mrs. M. R. Billiard, who were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at their home.

The bride-elect was honored at a party held in Plattsburgh at the home of Mrs. Richard Cole, who entertained feminine members of Mr. Cole's family.

Mrs. Wesley Antes and her daughter, Miss Jane Antes, were hostesses at a buffet supper and shower at their home recently honoring Miss Larson, who also was presented a linen shower at a party given recently by Miss Beth Leach and Miss Janet Clarke at the home of Miss Leach.

IN suburban areas

Social news this morning is all about vacationers who are returning home after an enjoyable tour to their favorite sightseeing spot or recreation center.

And as the vacationers return we find those friendly neighbors making the last of the nightly checks to the empty home next door and dispensing with lawn and flower watering duties.—So it's home again for all of the residents of suburbia, as things go back to normal.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Five feminine members of the Fiene Heights social set returned home last Saturday after spending a week in Dallas, Tex. Mrs. Raymond Yost and her two daughters, Dorothy and Connie, were accompanied on their trip to Texas by two of Connie's young friends, Dona and Diana Swenson. While in Dallas the traveling fivesome were guests of another of Mrs. Yost's daughters, Miss Diane Yost. Besides seeing the sights of the grand city, the vacationers soaked up all the sun they could—and we hear that was quite a bit as they all returned with deep tans which said to say they are already beginning to fade.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Krivosh left Saturday for a two week vacation trip to California. The two will be heading first for San Francisco, and then will continue their sightseeing trip down to Los Angeles where they will change their vacation pace somewhat. In Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Krivosh will attend the national convention of Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity for which Mr. Krivosh serves as a Regional Governor. After the close of the convention the two will make one last stop in Las Vegas, Nev., before returning home.

WEDGEWOOD MANOR

The younger set had a get-together on Saturday evening. The neighborhood "gang" gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McClatchey. Hosts at the reception and refreshment party were Bruce and Craig.

Vacation news includes a trip made by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Miller of 931 Cottonwood Dr. The Millers and their three children, Stan, Leslie, and Randy, recently returned from a trip to Picher, Okla. While in the Oklahoma town, the family visited a lead and zinc mine. To collect specimens, the Millers went down into the mine in a bucket.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stapleton have been entertaining relatives from different parts of the country. Last week Mrs. Stapleton's sister, Mrs. Max Ploughman, visited in Wedgewood from Lansing, Mich. Another visitor in the Stapleton household was Mrs. Stapleton's mother, Mrs. I. O. Premier, of Palisade.

Weekend visitors in the Stapleton home were Mr. Stapleton's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stapleton and their children, Sharon and Marilyn, of Austin, Tex.

said 'goodbye' to vacation

Last year they were high school seniors — This year they will be college freshmen — either at Nebraska, Wesleyan or schools east, west, north and south. And last Saturday evening these 13 young ladies said goodbye to summer and vacation at a patio barbecue party for which Miss Carol Thompson was hostess at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George McCabe.

The guest list included not only girls from Southeast High School from where the hostess was graduated in June—but from other Lincoln high schools as well. Apparently there were no nostalgic moments, but perhaps that was because the master chef, Mr. McCabe, kept them well supplied with hamburgers from the grill.

Opening lead — two of spades

Let's say you're declarer at three notrump and West leads a spade. You win the queen with the king and, after examining the situation, you find that you have only seven sure winners—a spade, a heart, two diamonds and three clubs.

There are many possible ways of acquiring the two additional tricks you need. The jack of clubs may fall as you lead the A-K-Q, thus producing an extra club trick, you may gain a trick with a heart finesse; or you may gain two tricks if the diamonds are well divided—for example, if East has the doubleton or triplet queen.

No harm can come from first cashing the A-K of clubs in the hope that the jack will appear, but, when you do this, both defenders play low. You then shift your attention to diamonds by playing a low one to the ace and another one back, but East shows out and your chances in that suit are knocked into a cocked hat.

With the situation getting more acute by the minute, you take the king of diamonds and play a low heart to the jack. After the finesse wins, you are up to eight sure winners and the question arises about how to obtain the ninth.

You could lead a club now towards the Q-10, but you would then be faced with a difficult question if East followed low. You would not know whether to play the ten or the queen. Either play could turn out to be right or wrong.

The way to solve the problem is to cash the ace of hearts first. When West follows with the ten, your problem is solved.

West is marked by the previous plays with an initial holding of four diamonds, three hearts, four spades and, hence, two clubs. You therefore lead a club from dummy and finesse the ten with complete confidence that the ten will produce trick number nine.

DON'T MISS IT!

DEAR ABBY: My husband wrote several bad checks a few months ago. He is now on parole, has a good job and is paying back the money. My problem is my mother. She is constantly on my neck telling me I should go to work and help my husband pay off his obligations. Abby, my husband is strongly against my going to work. He says it's HIS fault that he has those debts, and he wants to pay them off himself.

I think my husband is right and I should respect his wishes. My mother says

I am lazy. She has discussed this matter with several of her friends and relatives and they agree with her. Abby, I love my husband and want to do what is right for him. I am not lazy and would gladly go to work if he wanted me to. I don't want this matter brought up every time I see my mother. How can I put a stop to it?

WHY GROW OLD?
Josephine Lowman

BRIDGE
trick number nine
B. JAY BECKER

It's a wonder I don't get lint in my lungs from chewing the rag about health and exercise and prolonged youthfulness. However, I am enthusiastic about the things I write about.

There is no longer any doubt that the road to health is the road to beauty, that exercise and diet are as important to good looks as they are to vitality, that overweight can affect personality and that the practical application of the knowledge we have today can delay aging.

If I were asked what group of women neglects itself most, I think I would say the married woman. Yet, because of the complexity of her life, she more than any other woman, must win by learning to tap the stamina and energy which come from vibrant health.

Got Her Man

The married woman is more likely to allow her vitality to run low and her heels to run over than the unmarried or professional woman is. Of course the usual suggestion is that this is true because the married woman has gotten her man and has settled down on marriage like a hen on a nest of eggs. If this is the case the chances are she will hatch out some unpleasant situations. However, today let's forget that and think of some other factors.

There is no job in the world which is so demanding as being a housekeeper, a wife and a mother. The woman in the home is a housekeeper, an expert cook, a disciplinarian, a nurse, a buyer, a professional entertainer, a seamstress and an emotional buffer.

Besides that she is supposed to be active in civic and school and church affairs. She is expected to be well groomed and attractive, a good companion for her husband and to keep up with world affairs. It is nice if she can also play a good game of bridge and golf and read minds.

Will Please Family

It seems to me that the most important thing a woman can do, the thing which will make her family happiest in the long run, is to devote some time and give some thought to her physical well being each day. She will have to plan for this with determination just as she plans the meals for her family. Most men and children would settle for a wife and mother who has a good disposition, whose sense of humor carries the family smoothly through hectic times, who is understanding rather than hectic. They won't notice if there is a little dust on the mantel piece.

Draft And Love Speed Young Men To Altar

By WESLEY G. PIPPETT
United Press International
Some young men are in a big rush to the altar these days. It's love, of course—and Viet Nam.

"Many of the young men bluntly admit that they are marrying to avoid the draft," an Allegheny County (Pa.) license clerk said. "Some say they feel the cause in Viet Nam is not worth fighting for."

Washington (AP)—One-fourth from the South and border states of the school districts in the South and border states were warned Monday they face loss of federal school aid unless they have desegregation plans accepted before the start of the next school year.

With back-to-class bells ready to jangle next month, 1,278 of the 5,135 school districts in the 17 states still have not submitted plans or have not had their submitted plans accepted.

However, the White House said there are 930 submitted plans still being processed and nearly all of these are

U.S. Catholics In Red Capital Get Chaplain

Worcester, Mass. (AP)—The Rev. Eugene V. LaPlante, 33, instructor in theology at Assumption College, was appointed Monday as chaplain of American Roman Catholics in Moscow.

The Very Rev. Armand H. Desautels, provincial superior of the Assumption Order, said Father LaPlante would leave within the week to replace the Rev. Joseph F. Richard, who has held the post since 1961.

In his new post in Moscow, Father LaPlante also will have the title of apostolic administrator of the U.S.S.R.

Father LaPlante, a native of North Dartmouth, Mass., was graduated from Assumption High School in 1950. He studied for two years at Assumption College, and a year at a novitiate in Quebec, before graduation from Assumption in 1955.

He was ordained in France in 1958 and received the degree of doctor of canon law in 1963 from the Lateran Pontifical University in Rome before becoming an instructor at Assumption.

Draft And Love Speed Young Men To Altar

By WESLEY G. PIPPETT
United Press International
Some young men are in a big rush to the altar these days. It's love, of course—and Viet Nam.

"Many of the young men bluntly admit that they are marrying to avoid the draft," an Allegheny County (Pa.) license clerk said. "Some say they feel the cause in Viet Nam is not worth fighting for."

In Philadelphia, Robert W. Costigan, first assistant clerk in charge of the marriage license bureau, said two young women telephoned and volunteered the information that they were moving up their wedding dates so their boyfriends can avoid the draft.

Musician

"The draft?" asked John Danyo, 22, a musician in Detroit. "That's why I'm getting married."

25% Of South Warned On Federal School Aid

Washington (AP)—One-fourth of the school districts in the South and border states were warned Monday they face loss of federal school aid unless they have desegregation plans accepted before the start of the next school year.

With back-to-class bells ready to jangle next month, 1,278 of the 5,135 school districts in the 17 states still have not submitted plans or have not had their submitted plans accepted.

However, the White House said there are 930 submitted plans still being processed and nearly all of these are from the South and border states.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said President Johnson has told Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner to have his Office of Education work round the clock to speed up the processing.

Gardner was directed also to alert school districts which have not yet complied with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

It requires that all federal school funds, except the lunch program, be withheld from districts which do not submit acceptable plans for desegregation.

Moyers said Johnson considers the reports on compliance as "heartening and indicating substantial progress.

U.S. Catholics In Red Capital Get Chaplain

Worcester, Mass. (AP)—The Rev. Eugene V. LaPlante, 33, instructor in theology at Assumption College, was appointed Monday as chaplain for American Roman Catholics in Moscow.

The Very Rev. Armand H. Desautels, provincial superior of the Assumption Order, said Father LaPlante would leave within the week to replace the Rev. Joseph F. Richard, who has held the post since 1961.

In his new post in Moscow, Father LaPlante also will have the title of apostolic administrator of the U.S.S.R.

Father LaPlante, a native of North Dartmouth, Mass., was graduated from Assumption High School in 1950. He studied for two years at Assumption College, and a year at a novitiate in Quebec, before graduation from Assumption in 1955.

He was ordained in France in 1958 and received the degree of doctor of canon law in 1963 from the Lateran Pontifical University in Rome before becoming an instructor at Assumption.

Council Orders 30 Sidewalk Districts To Build

The City Council Monday ordered in thirty of the top thirty-two priority sidewalk construction districts but removed two districts from the list after property owners protested during public hearings. The resolution in effect gives property owners in the 30 districts 30 days in which to start sidewalk construction before the city acts.

Removed from the list were Calvert St., 27th to 33rd, ranked 27th in priority and Woods Blvd., Stockwell to Fifine, ranked 29th.

Council Formally Adopts Budget

appropriation of funds after the council has approved the budget is still a legislative matter and therefore requires action by the council.

Mayor Petersen, terming the debate "philosophical," commented that charter revisions have given administrative authority to the mayor.

Approve Request

The council approved the Lincoln Airport Authority request for a 1 mill levy for the operation of Lincoln Municipal Airport plus an additional 1-10th mill to be levied for aviation promotion, after hearing Rolland Harr, authority executive director, e x p l a i n what the authority intends to do with funds raised from the 1-10th mill levy.

Harr said that the request for 1-20th mill for promotion last year was "a mistake, in light of the announcement of the air base deactivation."

He also told the council that out of the $8,100 spent for promotion in 1964-65, about $4,500 went for legal expenses incurred by participating in airline service cases affecting

Most of the protests were voiced by mothers of school children who argued that other streets used as school routes were more in need of sidewalks than Woods Blvd. Most prominently mentioned were 17th, 20th and 27th, mainly from Calvert north in the direction of Irving Jr. High School.

City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger promised further evaluation of the Woods Blvd. and Calvert St. districts, plus a lengthy look at 17th, 20th and 27th, before returning the remainder of the 100 top priority sidewalk list back to the council for further action.

Defends Method

Holsinger defended the method used by his department in evaluating the districts, saying that it was partially based on information received from PTA groups in schools throughout the city.

A few schools did not respond, he said, and some of the information may not have been complete.

The priority rating was also based on other pedestrian generators, including recreation areas and commercial centers. Emphasis was given to streets where no sidewalks have been constructed and to heavily traveled streets.

The 30 districts ordered in by the council:

First Reading
—Creating a paving district, 84th, between block 8, Wedgewood Manor 2nd addition.
—Authorizing call-back and overtime pay for fire department and police personnel.
—Canceling the easement granted over certain lots in Rosewood 1st addition.
—Creating a paving district, Park Blvd., South St. to the east line of Union Pacific Railroad, right-of-way, approved.
—Creating a paving district, Cornhusker Highway, Viola St. to 500 feet east of Viola, approved.

Second Reading
—Creating a paving district, 84th, between block 8, Wedgewood Manor 2nd addition.

—Amending the building code to allow expansion of area limitations for all occupations. Also, allowing separation by other than a fire wall under certain conditions.

—Amending a zone from A-2 single family to G-1 single business, Havelock Ave., between 69th and 70th, requested by Nash-Finch Co.

First Reading
—Authorizing the issuance of $2,800,000 general obligation city hall bonds, $2,200,000 special assessment revolving fund bonds—Amendment of 1963.

—Amendment to allow transfer of vehicle registration without paying additional wheel tax if the name of a spouse is added to or deleted from the vehicle registration as long as one name remains the same.

—Amendment to allow bonds for subdivision construction for a period of 4 years and not renewable except by council agreement.

—Changing name of East Steinway Road to Apache Trail (rules suspended, read twice).

—Change of zone from A-2 single family to A-2 single family, 56th and LaSalle.

—Resolution approving request of R.S. Proddit Co. to replace west end of dock at 7th and O, passed.

—Resolution approving agreement between city and Salt Wahoo Watershed District defining areas of responsibility, passed.

—Resolution amending that the city will not use beds in the old Lincoln General Hospital for acute patient care following the completion and occupancy of the new building, passed. This is a prerequisite to acquiring Hill-Burton funds.

City Council members Monday agreed to changes in the city's campsite ordinance which will allow the development of a proposed 17-acre campsite near Superior St. and Interstate 180.

James Ager, acting director of Parks and recreation, said there are hopes that the campsite, to be leased by the city to private operators, will be ready for the next tourist season.

The council approved a proposed amendment to the ordinance which would call for a 2,500 square foot minimum area for each individual campsite instead of the present 3,000 square foot requirement.

The council also agreed to eliminate the 50 foot buffer strip now required between each campsite.

Councilman John Comstock said that present requirements are too rigid and that "you can't get enough sites out there (Superior St.) now so that it can be profitably operated."

A majority of the council agreed that the city would advertise for bidders to run the campsite, but indicated that the city should not be "necessarily committed to the low bidder."

Council members also agreed that there should be an appeal to the council on the termination section of the lease and that any sewage treatment system must be approved by the city.

Petersen Will Accept Greetings
From Sister City

Official greetings to this city from the mayor of Lincoln, England, will be received by Mayor Dean Petersen Tuesday.

Meeting with Mayor Petersen for a noon luncheon will be the Rev. John Hodgkinson, a resident of the British city but currently an exchange pastor at an Episcopal church in Des Moines.

Hodgkinson is one of several Lincoln, England, representatives who have visited here in the past few years. Also expected to attend the luncheon are City Council members Mrs. Helen Boosalis and John Comstock.

Council Agrees
To File Brief In Valuation Suit

The City Council Monday informally agreed to file a brief in connection with the county's proposed lawsuit concerning the State Board of Equalization action raising Lancaster urban valuations. City Attorney Ralph Nelson said the city would probably support the county appeal as "a friend of the court," since the city is not directly concerned with the board's action.

Council members said they are concerned over the increases and want to let the court know about it.

This family of seven discovers the joy, and the economy, of TOTAL ELECTRIC LIVING!

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM A. CUMBOW moved into their Total Electric Home three years ago. Located on West Fifth Street in Valentine, Nebraska, it provides 3600 square feet of living space for them and their five children. "Three years is long enough to really know a house," Mr. Cumbow states. "We are very well satisfied with this Total Electric Home from both a cost and a comfort standpoint."

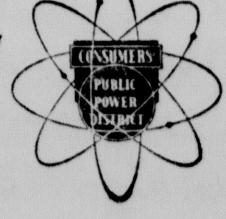

PAY JUST ONE BILL for all your energy needs in a Total Electric Home!

During 1963 and 1964, the William Cumbows paid an average of $48.30 per month for all their energy needs. That one bill paid for heating, air conditioning, cooking, laundry, water heating, food freezing and refrigeration, ironing, sewing, radio, television and all the other small appliances used by this family of seven.

In 1965, they will pay an estimated 20% less for electricity because their electrically-heated home qualifies for Consumers' new one-penny rate.

Stan Delaplane

Man is constantly tinkering with Fate. ("That boy was not behind the door when the brains were passed out," said my grandma.)

So the other day we went down to the drug store and bought an electric toothbrush. This is the latest wizardry in letting the electric light company do your work for. And at $21.73 how can you lose?

A drug store is a wonderful place these enlightened days. Bathing caps. Liquor. Magazines. Paperbacks. Nail polish and nail polish remover — what a modern combination!

I can buy school supplies. Cigarettes plus filters to filter the cigarette out of them. Manicure kits. Kites (in season). Candy — and toothbrushes, regular or electric, to brush it out of your teeth.

In the back of the store, there is a man in a white coat. If you want a little, old prescription filled, he fills it. I used to just take an aspirin. But now I get a checkup twice yearly. And no medic can let you go without giving you something.

If he can't figure anything else, he puts you on tranquilizers. I am coiled as tight as a bedspring. But tranquil about it.

The toothbrush comes with a lot of attachments — my merry dentist recommended it.

"Massages the gums, too," he said. (I should give my gums a massage. What have they ever done for me?)

The toothbrush has green, pink, blue and yellow toothbrushes to fit into the electric slot. One for each member of the family. If I have any more family, somebody will have to go halvesies.

Anyway, we plugged her in. Pushed the button and — whirrrr. Felt funny on your teeth. But you don't have to do any work. Just hold it there.

The drugstores of my flaming youth did not have these wonderful things.

The pill-rolling parlors of those lilac-scented days sold horehound drops. Cubebes (which we smoked in hidden places).

The prescriptions came in powders. Folded in a piece of paper. They were mighty powerful. You could taste them all the way down. And for an hour afterward.

The drug stores had big bowls of violet or green water in the windows so you knew what kind of store you were going into.

I think they sold toothbrushes. But do-it-yourself brushes.

The prime equipment for teeth in our household was a thread.

When my first teeth were loosening, grandma tied a piece of thread to the loosest. Then she — yanked!

There was another theory. You tied the thread to your tooth and the other end to a door knob. When somebody opened the door, it jerked the tooth out.

This called for heroes — standing there in shacks. Never knowing when the door would open — yank! But those were heroic times.

Well, the electric toothbrush lasted about a day. Everybody used it. Constantly. Never was there so much toothbrushing by so few so many times.

The next day, the brush was whirring. But the whirrer wasn't moving.

I took it back and we got another.

This time, not even the whirrer whirred after the first day.

We are now on Number Four toothbrush. And the druggist gives me little, sad looks when I come in.

I know we aren't doing anything wrong with the brush.

Distributed by The Chronicle Features

The whirrer just hasn't enough whir in it to stand up against a toothbrushing family like I have.

"Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall," said my grandma. "Open your mouth!"

Classes for the fall semester

NU Tuition Pay Deadline Is Aug. 27

The deadline is August 27 for University of Nebraska students to pay tuition and fees for the fall semester. Lee Chatfield, associate dean of student affairs, said Monday.

Tuition and fee statements and class schedules were mailed to students Aug. 15. Students must pay the tuition and fees and return the registration form by Aug. 27 to retain class schedules now assigned, Chatfield said.

begin Sept. 13. A convocation for new students will be held at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 10 in the Coliseum. Students who have applied for rooms in university residence halls may start moving in Sept. 8. The Abel Hall dormitory for men will be opened for the first time this fall.

Nuclear Voice Claimed For Germany By Erhard Party

Tuesday, Aug. 24, 1965 The Lincoln Star 11

... WOULD BE IN RATIO TO FEDERAL REPUBLIC CONTRIBUTION TO ATLANTIC ALLIANCE

Bonn, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic Party claimed for West Germany Monday a voice in nuclear striking power to correspond with its contribution to Atlantic defense.

West Germany's 400,000 troops make up the biggest force in Western Europe. They are entirely under command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The presidium huddled be-

"Considering the German defense contribution and Germany's situation, a corresponding say in questions relating to atomic weapons must not be withheld from the federal republic," a statement issued by the party presidium said.

Adenauer brought West Germany into NATO and is chairman of the Christian Democratic Party. He said America's proposal at the Geneva disarmament conference was at odds with the interests of West Germany and eventually would turn Western Europe over to the Russians.

Last week, Erhard's spokesman gave cautious praise to the U.S. plan. The draft treaty would have kept nuclear weapons from the sole control of any nation beyond those now in possession of atomic arms.

Door Open To MLF

It left the door open for the creation of a multilateral nuclear force. West Germany is NATO's strongest—and almost sole—supporter of such an international force.

Chinese-Ruled Tibet Slated To Be Autonomous Region

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's rule of Tibet will become an autonomous region on Sept. 1. Peking's New China News Agency said Monday a broadcast heard here said this was decided at a plenary meeting of China's state council.

The Himalayan country accepted suzerainty of the Chinese Communist regime under a pact signed May 23, 1951.

The broadcast gave this account:

"After discussing a report on the subject presented by the preparatory committee for the Tibet Autonomous Region, the state council agreed that

Cigar-Puffing Chancellor's Car Quips Please Crowds

Bonn, Germany (AP) — In car-conscious Germany, the subject was sure to stir the crowd's interest:

"The Socialists complain about a traffic chaos and charge us with being responsible for it," Chancellor Ludwig Erhard told the rally on a picturesque, small-town square.

"Well," he added, "if the Socialists had been in power we would not have jammed roads now because there would be many fewer cars."

It is one of the standard quips in the campaign repertory of the 68-year-old Christian Democratic leader who is fighting for re-election Sept. 19.

Always Gets Applause

It is also one of the few remarks that invariably provokes speech-stopping applause.

Erhard is a sturdy campaigner but not necessarily a crowd thriller. In what is supposed to be the closest election race ever fought in West Germany, he relies on the homey, cigar-puffing image of the "father of the economic miracle" rather than on oratorical fireworks.

Although his party's edge is probably narrower than ever since it took control 16 years ago, Erhard is still in front position in personal popularity polls.

The Christian Democratic campaign has been keyed to that fact. Erhard has scheduled more than 50 rallies.

Up to 18 and more K's (staff jargon for Kundgebung or pronouncements) are crammed into a normal Erhard campaign day. They range from K-zero—a few words with a flower-carrying girl stopping the chancellor's motorcade—to K-four, a mass rally with a speech lasting more than an hour.

Silverless Quarters Are Minted

Philadelphia (AP) — The silver quarter began going the way of the Indian-head penny Monday as the Philadelphia Mint stamped the first of the nation's new no-silver 25-cent pieces.

The new quarter is a "sandwich," with faces composed of the same copper-nickel alloy now used in the five-cent piece, plus a core of pure copper.

The old quarter was 90% silver and had a metallic value of about 24 cents. The new, without silver, has a metallic worth of about one cent, said Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Robert A. Wallace, on hand for the start of production.

Still 25 cents

But Miss Eva Adams, director of the mint, made it clear that the new quarter's monetary value is just the same as the old one: 25 cents American.

Soon to be minted are a similar sandwich-type dime containing no silver, and a half-dollar with a reduced amount of silver.

Wallace said the introduction of the new coins caps a two-year drive by the Treasury.

Exhausted In 3 Years

"Had Congress not authorized the new material," he said, "treasury stocks of silver would have been exhausted in less than three years."

The sandwich composition was chosen, Wallace said, to give the new coins the electrical properties they will need to work in the nation's 12 million coin-operated vending machines.

Some silver quarter will continue in production temporarily, to meet the general need for coins. They will be gradually discontinued as the new ones are circulated.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is your game to add numbers. Count the letters of your name and add them together. If the sum is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Add it to the number in the left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers off to the right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. (Distributed by King Features Inc. Registered U.S. Patent Office)

Didn't the television people miss a good one when they let Juan Marichal go after John Roseboro without the boob tube zeroing in.

Marichal provided more action and over a longer period (14 minutes) than Sonny Liston has offered in the last three heavyweight championship fights (about six minutes).

And Marichal doesn't have the lucrative dollars from closed circuit television that went to Liston who made millions while Juan likely will wind up paying $300.

What Takes Priority

And while on the partial subject of television, how about the hundreds of phone calls the networks claim they received in protest when they exempted pro football exhibition games to give the viewers reports on the Gemini flight.

CBS said it received 400 calls in New York and 121 in Philadelphia when it pre-empted the Green Bay-Chicago game in the first city and the Philadelphia-Minnesota game in Philadelphia. NBC noted it received 250 calls in Washington protesting the pre-emption of the New York Jets-Buffalo Bills game.

All of which only proves a fact that sports desk people already knew. A sports desk receives hundreds of calls a week for game scores and other sports information while few people ever call a newspaper to ask how the war in Viet Nam is coming. Or it may also prove that there is very little bookie action on Viet Nam wars and Gemini flights.

Russians Confused

One AAU official blamed the U.S. defeat by Russia in the recent track meet between the two on the long wait the U.S. team had upon arriving in Russia before getting to their hotel.

However, with only 60 athletes and more than 75 AAU officials, you can hardly blame the Russians for the foul-up. They probably spotted the entourage of pot-bellied AAU people and figured it was just another sight-seeing group coming through the Iron Curtain.

The AAU is likely the only sports group in the world that feels for every athlete who makes the team, it can take one official also. If that group ever takes over a football team, they'll have 43 coaches and 19 players.

Girls Replace Sayers

Football may not be as exciting this fall with Gale Sayers missing, but the Jayhawk sports information office has taken steps to keep fans interested in the sport.

They are going to conduct a KU Cover Girl campaign with the candidates appearing on the cover of the football programs. A ballot in the program will give fans a chance to vote for their choice.

The Jayhawks apparently figure if Playboy can rate football teams, they should be able to move into the girlie department. Without Sayers, KU touchdowns may sag, but program sales likely will be up.

Lincoln's high school football teams opened their 1965 workouts Monday with over 500 athletes reporting at the four schools.

The biggest turnout was at Lincoln High, where new coach Andy Loehr reported that about 175 were on hand for the morning sessions.

Because of the big turnout, the opening drill for the Links was split into two sessions.

The Lincoln High contingent included 12 lettermen and 80 sophomores.

Art Bauer turned his attention from Shrine Bowl coaching to his Northeast team and greeted about 120 candidates. Eleven lettermen were included in the group.

"Our sophomore turnout was down this year," said Bauer, noting that the turnout included about 40 from each class.

Emphasis was on conditioning in the Rockets' camp with all hands being clocked in a 440-yard run. Senior quarterback Jack Ketterer and junior end Chris Rosenstock turned in the best times.

Southeast coach Bill Stephenson has a lot of new faces in the Knights' camp.

The 156 candidates include 79 sophomores, one of the biggest crops of first-year players to turn out at Southeast.

With only six lettermen on hand, Stephenson is planning on some contact work early in the week in an effort to determine which candidates will be likely varsity material.

Pius X coach Vince Aldrich had a turnout of 94, up slightly from last year.

The candidates included 13 lettermen and about 40 sophomores.

Aldrich indicated that most of the Thunderbolts reported in fine shape and looked ready to go.

Marichal Suspended, Fined $1,750 For Attack . . . ON ROSEBORO WITH BAT

the money is advanced to him by the club.

Giles made his decision after reading a report of the bat-swinging incident by Shag Crawford, plate umpire at San Francisco during the game and the man who finally separated the combatants by his score, found one of the traps on the right most troublesome.

I turned around and looked down at him and said "Why did you do that?" He took his mask off, held it in his hand and started toward me. I thought he was going to get me. I didn't want to get hit with the mask and that's when I hit him with the bat.

The incident erupted in the third inning with Marichal at bat. After Roseboro returned a pitch to the mound that whizzed close to Marichal's head, the Giants' pitcher turned on the Dodger catcher and began pummeling him with the bat.

In Pittsburgh Monday, Marichal expressed regret over the incident and gave his version for the first time. At the same time, in New York, Roseboro said it was over as far as he was concerned but other members of the Dodgers expressed surprise at the light punishment given Marichal.

Franks said Marichal wanted to talk with Giles and the two officials, Crawford and Doug Harvey, and give his side of the story.

Roseboro, who sat out the first game of a series with the New York Mets, said, "I don't care what they do to him. I don't have any feelings about it. As far as I'm concerned it's all over and done with."

Roseboro, with a patch covering a two-inch cut on the top of his scalp, earlier had given his version of what triggered the 14-minute melee in which players from both teams in the tight, pressure-filled pennant struggle battled on the field.

Giants' Manager Herman Franks, who before the suspension was announced, said the loss of Marichal for any period "would murder the club" in its battle for the National League pennant, said after the announcement that he thought Giles' action "was a little too quick."

Dodgers Keep Lead In NL

... BY BEATING METS

By Associated Press

Ron Fairly smacked a three-run homer in the fifth inning and singled home another run in the seventh to keep the Los Angeles Dodgers in first place in the torrid National League pennant race Monday night.

Fairly's four RBI paced the Dodgers to an 8-4 victory over the New York Mets and helped Don Drysdale to his 17th victory, although he gave up 11 hits and was replaced by Bob Miller in the eighth.

Baltimore snapped the Chicago White Sox's 10-game winning streak in the American League, 2-1 in 12 innings and the league-leading Minnesota Twins beat the New York Yankees 4-3 on a single by Jerry Kindall in the 10th inning. Curt Blefary's triple drove in the winning run for the Orioles and dropped the White Sox 7½ games back of the Twins.

Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 6-2 and dropped the Giants from second to third place. Milwaukee edged Cincinnati 7-6 and regained the runner-up spot, just two percentage points behind the Dodgers. St. Louis walloped the Chicago Cubs 10-2 in the only other NL game scheduled.

The Pirates beat the Giants with a four-run uprising

Salina, Kansas — Omaha Pepsi made use of Ken Fila's 3-hit pitching to down Enid, Oklahoma, 4-1 here Monday night and move into the finals of the Region 6 American Legion baseball playoffs.

Enid's Buddy Plummer, with a single, a double, and a triple was the only man able to hit off Fila. He opened the game with a triple and scored on Terry Meyer's sacrifice bunt for the lone Enid score.

Omaha got its first run in the second when Terry Nausler singled home Adrian Fiala. In the third Bill Myers and Frank Stanek were tripped home by Tom Gordon with Gordon scoring moments later on a sacrifice fly by Adrian Fiala to complete Omaha's 4-run output.

Enid is now eliminated from the tournament. Omaha will meet Salina, Kan. Tuesday night at 8:15 for the regional title.

Washington (P) — Track Coach William J. (Bill) Bowerman of the University of Oregon told investigating senators Monday, one U.S. amateur athlete secretly received an "airplane bag full" of money to compete in a track meet in Ireland. He did not estimate how much the money totaled.

Bowerman said "one of our own Oregon athletes" was offered an automobile as an inducement to compete in a meet sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union but turned down the gift.

Such payments and gifts are strictly forbidden by amateur rules.

At the committee's request, Bowerman gave no names in this or later testimony. But he agreed to give the committee confidence names, dates and other data.

Mustang Coach Says Comets Can't Use Love

Omaha (P) — Bob Adwers, head of the Omaha Mustangs professional football team, told a luncheon session Monday that he will not permit the Lincoln Comets to use Preston Love, Omaha, when the two teams meet Saturday night.

Love has reportedly signed with the Comets but Adwers said, "He is on our negotiation list; he won't be in the Lincoln lineup."

Adwers also related that Grand Rapids, which beat the Mustangs last week, had violated a league rule by failing to file a player list on time but that Omaha would not file a formal complaint.

Lincoln, playing its first game, meets the Mustangs in Omaha.

St. Mortiz, Switzerland (P) — Torben Ulrich of Denmark beat Bob Hewitt, Australian ace now playing for South Africa, 9-7, 3-6, 6-3 in the men's singles final match of an international tennis tournament Monday.

West Germany's Edda Buding beat Australia's Gail Sherriff 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 in the ladies singles final.

Lincoln businessmen were atted on the back Monday and at the same time were urged not to rely entirely on aid from the federal government in further developing Lincoln.

Robert P. Gerholz, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and some 100 local and visiting Chamber men they have all it takes" to "make your community the birthplace of renaissance in the history of cities."

Gerholz cited Lincoln's "can do spirit" which resulted in the reorganization of its Chamber of Commerce, forming an aggressive industrial development corporation and creating an industrial park.

The faith of Lincoln businessmen in this venture has been justified, Gerholz said, as witnessed by seven new industries taking sites in 30% of the 280-acre park.

Nebraska Advantages

Clean water and air as well as a healthy political climate are advantages Nebraska can offer industrial prospects, the Flint, Michigan, industrialist said.

Gerholz emphasized that private investment is the heart of total development of a community and added that cities need leaders from all walks of life working together to keep the city growing.

He urged that this same community-wide approach be employed in embarking on a program to hasten the revolution in balanced community living—on what the National Chamber calls total Community development in setting goals and priorities that are right for Lincoln.

Requirements of a total program include activating local codes, what city couldn't get leadership, surveying the rid of slums? We don't need community's overall needs a federal bulldozer for that," and assets, enlisting community-wide cooperation, setting priorities, choosing finance the federal government has a method, modernizing and place in our lives" he said, adapting local tax and zoning laws, building codes, housing codes and the like to facilitate development of assets and to correct the problems

"With properly enforced rules book "can- not help but inhibit the free play of imagination, originality and innovation within your community. Certainly, it will put no premium on these assets."

Gerholz said he was not criticizing cooperation between the federal government and the people of any city. "I am saying that there is a real opportunity to do more by doing it ourselves, in our own way."

School Bus Conference Troubled By Interpreting New Requirements

Interpretation of a recently passed legislative bill revising requirements for relicensing and inspection of school buses dominated the Lincoln meeting Monday of the Nebraska School Bus Conference.

Chamber Head Urges Lincoln Progress On Own Initiative

By RICHARD BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln businessmen were patted on the back Monday and at the same time were urged not to rely entirely on aid from the federal government in further developing Lincoln.

Robert P. Gerholz, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, told some 100 local and visiting Chamber men they have "all it takes" to "make your community the birthplace of a renaissance in the history of cities."

Gerholz cited Lincoln's "can do spirit" which resulted in the reorganization of its Chamber of Commerce, forming an aggressive industrial development corporation and creating an industrial park.

The faith of Lincoln businessmen in this venture has been justified. Gerholz said, as witnessed by seven new industries taking sites in 30% of the 280-acre park.

Nebraska Advantages

Clean water and air as well as a healthy political climate are advantages Nebraska can offer industrial prospects, the Flint, Michigan, industrialist said.

Gerholz emphasized that a private investment is the heart of total development of a community and added that cities need leaders from all walks of life working together to keep the city growing.

He urged that this same community-wide approach be employed in embarking on a program to hasten the revolution in balanced community living—on what the National Chamber calls total Community development in setting goals and priorities that are right for Lincoln.

"With properly enforced codes, what city couldn't get rid of slums? We don't need a federal bulldozer for that," he said.

"There is no denying that the federal government has a place in our lives," he said, "but the fact remains that no matter how much help you may get from outside, the job of developing your town to its full potential is your job."

The federal rule book "cannot help but inhibit the free play of imagination, originality and innovation within your community. Certainly, it will put no premium on these assets."

Gerholz said he was not criticizing cooperation between the federal government and the people of any city. "I am saying that there is a real opportunity to do more by doing it ourselves, in our own way."

School Bus Conference Troubled By Interpreting New Requirements

Interpretation of a recently passed legislative bill revising the requirements for relicensing and inspection of school buses dominated the Lincoln meeting Monday of the Nebraska School Bus Conference.

A question about LB99 concerning consecutive hours of duty is still unanswered for conference leaders, according to Floyd K. Alexander, state driver education director and conference head.

The inquiry on what constitutes "duty" will be submitted to the attorney general for an opinion, Alexander said.

16 Hours Driving

"There is some feeling that the intent of the legislators to include both working and bus driving as duty, but the wording seems to indicate 16 hours of driving," he explained.

Apparent Low Bidders Named For 3 Projects

The State Highway Department Monday released the apparent low bidders for three building construction jobs.

The M. W. Anderson Construction Company of Lincoln submitted the apparent low bid of $112,921 for the construction of a storage building at 5001 So. 14th.

The George Cook Company submitted a bid of $116,241 and the Walter Broer Co., $116,945.

The Foster-Smetana Co. of Omaha submitted the apparent low bid of $164,826 for construction of an engineering office building at Omaha.

Peter Kiewit, $166,359, and Ely Construction Co., $167,223, followed.

The John Claussen Sons Co. of Grand Island submitted the apparent low bid of $157,170 for the construction of an office and shop building at Grand Island.

The George Cook Construction Co., $161,794, and Geer-Melkus Co., $164,491, followed.

Rep. Brown Dies; Had 2 Great Loves

Washington (AP) — Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, had two great loves in his life. They were his wife and politics. His wife died early this year.

Small wonder that without her, life had lost its flavor," And Rep. Frank T. Bow, Mrs. Bolton said.

Ohio, said that Brown, who had completed 50 years of public service, was "lost when she was gone and he never recovered."

Brown, a Republican leader in the House for many years, entered the hospital last week. Death was attributed to uremic poisoning resulting from kidney failure.

Brown, of Blanchester, Ohio, was serving his 27th year as a representative from the 7th Ohio Congressional District. He was the senior GOP member of the House Rules Committee.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton,

Country Suggests U.N. Have Head Of Human Rights

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations made a public Monday a proposal from Costa Rica that the General Assembly at its coming session elect a U.N. high commissioner for human rights.

Costa Rican chief delegate Fernando Volio Jimenez asked the assembly to discuss creation of a post at its 20th session starting Sept. 21. He filed the request with Secretary-General U Thant.

The commissioner would report to the assembly annually through the Economic and Social Council. He would render "assistance and services" to any government at its request.

Curtis Opposes Red Consulates

Washington (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., says he would oppose ratification of the consular convention for Soviet Russia.

Senate majority leader, Mansfield of Montana has announced no attempt at ratification will be made until next year.

The convention would permit Russia to establish consular offices in U.S. cities and this country to open similar offices in Russia. Curtis said it would bring several hundred more Soviet personnel to this country and scatter them at points throughout the country, "multiplying opportunities for Soviet espionage activities."

He is in Lincoln

PEN, PEN, WHO'S GOT THE PEN?

Lord Denning of Whitechurch, Britain's second-ranking judge, went to sign the guest book during a visit to Electoral Court in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and he had to look through his pockets. Searching themselves for a pen for the peer are Brazilian Judges Oscar Tenorio, left, and Milton Barcelos, right.

The new Parliament includes top members of the ruling Baath Socialist Party, senior army officers and eight women. It is the first time in Syria's modern history that women have been admitted as legislators.

The assembly will hold its first session Sept. 1.

The National Revolutionary Council has held legislative power since a coup d'etat installed the Baath Party in March 1963.

Kearney Officials Hold Pair For Lincoln Police

Kearney (UPI) — Lincoln police were en route here Monday night to take custody of two young Iowans wanted for car theft in Lincoln, a beating and robbery at Dubuque, Iowa, and possible other charges.

Nebraska Safety Patrol Trooper Donald Grieb of

Grand Island said the pair admitted to him they robbed a man sleeping in the Dubuque YMCA to start the series of incidents this past Tuesday or Wednesday.

Grieb identified them as Ronald Lathrop, 19, an employee of a Dubuque fruit distributing company, and James Lee Wilburn, 24, who said he is unemployed.

Wilburn told Grieb he is currently on bond on a breaking and entering charge at Dubuque.

Lathrop, who is originally from Central City, Iowa, had been staying at the Dubuque YMCA. He said he is on parole for auto theft.

Buffalo County Sheriff Lloyd Frank said the pair were being held without bond until Lincoln officers arrive with a warrant charging auto theft.

A report issued Sunday night by patrol headquarters in Lincoln led to the arrest early Monday as Lathrop and Wilburn slept in a stolen 1964 model car. Two troopers of Kearney reported finding the two in the car which was parked on U. S. 30 at the west edge of Kearney.

In addition to the Lincoln charges, officers from Dubuque told Grieb by telephone charges have been filed at Dubuque in connection with the YMCA incident.

Grieb said Lathrop and Wilburn told him they drove from East Dubuque to Cedar Rapids, Iowa; then went by to Sioux City; hitchhiked to Omaha Saturday, and then made their way to Lincoln and Kearney.

At Dubuque, a man was apparently beaten and robbed of his wallet and $105 at the YMCA. A 1959 car was stolen in East Dubuque and driven to Cedar Rapids. A man was robbed of his wallet and $3 and some pennies at Omaha. In Lincoln, the 1964 car was stolen about 10 p.m. Sunday.

New Assembly Replaces Syrian Revolution Group

Damascus, Syria (UPI) — Syria announced Monday the formation of a 95-member National Assembly to take over legislative powers from the National Revolutionary Council.

The new Parliament includes top members of the ruling Baath Socialist Party, senior army officers and eight women. It is the first time in Syria's modern history that women have been admitted as legislators.

The assembly will hold its first session Sept. 1.

The National Revolutionary Council has held legislative power since a coup d'etat installed the Baath Party in March 1963.

Champion Brings $1,446 At Iowa

Des Moines, Iowa (UPI) — The grand champion 4-H baby beef was auctioned off for $160 a pound Monday — the second highest price in history for an Iowa State Fair champion.

The bid by Alvin Meyer, operator of the Gold Buffet at Winterset, gave Bruce Allman, 13, of Slater, $1,446.40 for the Hereford with which he won the grand championship in his first State Fair competition.

Rep. Brown Dies; Had 2 Great Loves

Washington (AP) — Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, had two great loves in his life. They were his wife and politics. His wife died early this year.

Monday Brown died in Bethesda Naval Hospital, at the age of 70.

The type of politics he Brown fought for much of his life was characterized by Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., a fellow member of the House Rules Committee who said Brown was a "conservative member of Congress in the true sense."

Country Suggests U.N. Have Head Of Human Rights

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations made a public Monday a proposal from Costa Rica that the General Assembly at its coming session elect a U.N. high commissioner for human rights.

Costa Rican chief delegate Fernando Volio Jimenez asked the assembly to discuss creation of a post at its 20th session starting Sept. 21. He filed the request with Secretary-General U Thant.

The commissioner would report to the assembly annually through the Economic and Social Council. He would render "assistance and services" to any government at its request.

PEN, PEN, WHO'S GOT THE PEN?

Lord Denning of Whitechurch, Britain's second-ranking judge, went to sign the guest book during a visit to Electoral Court in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and he had

Curtis Opposes Red Consulates

Washington (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., says he would oppose ratification of the consular convention for Soviet Russia.

Senate majority leader, Mansfield of Montana has announced no attempt at ratification will be made until next year.

The convention would permit Russia to establish consular offices in U.S. cities and this country to open similar offices in Russia. Curtis said it would bring several hundred more Soviet personnel to this country and scatter them at points throughout the country, "multiplying opportunities for Soviet espionage activities."

Tale Of Abandoned Farmhouse Would Rattle Edgar Allan Poe

Guilford, Conn. (UPI) — Frederick Bennett returned to the abandoned farmhouse he lived in as a boy this past weekend and Monday told a tale so bizarre it would have shaken the composure of Edgar Allan Poe.

The old frame dwelling sets on a sleepy road in this tiny seacoast community and had not been occupied since Arthur Meyer died one year ago. Meyer was Bennett's uncle.

Bennett said he opened the door to the house painfully conscious of the dust and mildewed atmosphere.

Behind the curtain which separates the kitchen from the living room he saw a makeshift funeral parlor, complete with a dummy corpse lying amid the sheet-draped furniture.

Stepped Back

"I have to admit, I took a step backward when I opened the curtain," he said, not knowing that this was only the beginning. "If my mother had walked in, she might have had a heart attack," he said.

Bennett next contacted police. Patrolman Nicholas Heery was sent to the house. Heery went through the structure carefully. He discovered a Dracula special.

The entire house was rigged with ghostly figures draped in sheets. Trip devices sent figures plunging down stairs and lunging through doorways.

One line leading outside the house was rigged to a bed-room. One could pull the wire from the outside and drag the sheet of a bed and simultaneously start the bedsprings jangling.

"It was a bit much," Bennett said.

Heery said the only thing in the house which could have injured anyone was a solitary figure carrying a carving knife. He said the figure would move through a corridor if a certain door was opened.

Heery tried twice and learned that the knife was rigged so that it would land in the frame of the opened door.

Police said the "haunting" was probably the work of "ingenious youngsters."

For the information of those with exotic interests, Bennett said the house very definitely is for sale.

McBride Hopes Study Will Improve County Road Building Policies

The chairman of the Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission expressed hope Monday that a sweeping study of the state's roads, streets and highways will result in better administration of county road building.

J. R. McBride of Minden noted that last year Nebraska's 93 counties received more than $19.5 million in state funds for road building with practically no strings attached.

Better Use

I've felt for some time that counties would have to use some funds to match the state's projects approved by the state, we would tend to get better use of the money allotted to the counties."

Seward County Residents Want State To Take Road

A delegation from Utica road if it becomes a part of the state system urged the Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission to add 55 miles of existing county road to the state highway system.

The road stretches south from U.S. 34 and links Utica with an interchange on Interstate 80 to the south.

Ruert Bereuter, president of the Utica Commercial Club, told the commission the road should be paved. He said it would serve as a vital link to the Interstate.

Louis Kriz of Seward county board chairman, said Seward County would use some of its federal-aid secondary road funds and matching dollars to aid in improving the

Equalization Unit Corrects Error In Hike

The State Board of Equalization met Monday afternoon and officially corrected the error that had been made in the ordered increase in Lancaster County's urban property valuation.

It was discovered last Thursday that a machine error in central accounting had resulted in the order that Lancaster's urban valuations be raised 31%.

The corrected ordered increase is 28%.

The ordered increase was made by the board August 6, when it ordered valuations changes for tax purposes in 82 of the state's 93 counties.

Lancaster and eight other counties have filed notices of appeal with the State Supreme Court designed to obtain a high court review of the board's action.

Doniphan Bank Charter Okayed

State Banking Director Henry E. Ley said Monday he has approved the application for a state charter of the Bank of Doniphan.

Ley said the applicant was Glenn E. Dean who will be president of the bank.

The bank will have a total capital structure of $100,000, Ley said.

Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships promote progress in Nebraska

The key to progress is education, and Ak-Sar-Ben does much to encourage it each year. Over 500 Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships have helped to provide educational opportunities for county extension agents, vocational agricultural instructors, as well as school teachers, nurses, volunteer firemen and policemen. Ak-Sar-Ben scholarship students attend schools throughout the state. When you support Ak-Sar-Ben, you support education in Nebraska.

This study might result in counties having to fulfill some requirements in order to receive road-user funds," McBride said.

The 1965 Legislature ordered the comprehensive study of the classification and needs of Nebraska roadways. It will cost an estimated $300,000.

McBride said counties in 1964 received 34% of the road user funds collected in the form of gas taxes and registration fees.

Some Supervision

Counties are receiving a substantial share of these funds, and there should be some supervision to see that the money is put in the proper place to pay for what is needed," he said.

He added: "We can't expect good management in many cases when county road systems are managed by people elected to county boards. Most county commissioners have no experience in engineering or building and maintaining a county road system.

"It's even safe to say that in many counties the money from the state is divided up among commissioner districts rather than being used for taking care of the needs of the county as a whole."

Lack Of Continuity

This sometimes results, he said, in a lack of road construction continuity even within the county itself.

McBride suggested that every county should have the services of a highway engineer. "If a county is so small it can't afford to hire one, then it should contract with a neighboring county for an engineer," he said.

Counties would also benefit by setting up two-year road improvement programs similar to the one established every biennium by the state, he said.

In other action, commissioners approved relocating about four miles of U.S. 20 in north-central Nebraska. The new location will run straight west from Crookston. At present, the highway swings a half mile to the north.
